Project Name:

Roman Electric Co. Inc.

Website:

<https://romanelectric.com/>

Strategy Lead:

Senior SEO Strategist

Duration

Dec 2025 – April 2026 (4-Month Intensive)

Executive Summary

Roman Electric was already an established entity, but it was underperforming relative to its market potential. My strategy shifted from basic maintenance to aggressive content clustering and technical optimization. This approach resulted in a 105% increase in impressions (growing from 83.3K to 171K) and a steady climb in total organic clicks, solidifying the brand’s dominance in the electrical and home services sector.

The Strategic Approach

- Content Silo Implementation: Reorganized the site’s service pages into logical silos (Electrical, Plumbing, HVAC) to improve topical relevance and help Google better understand the depth of our expertise.
- Technical Performance Overhaul: Addressed Core Web Vitals and mobile usability issues to ensure that the massive influx of new traffic had a seamless user experience, which is critical for high-intent service industries.
- Advanced On-Page SEO: Implemented local business schema and optimized for "near me" search queries, capturing high-converting traffic from users in immediate need of professional services.

Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)

Metric	Previous Period (Aug 2025 – Dec 2025)	Current Period (Dec2025 – Apr 2026)	Growth

Total Clicks	1.69K	1.86K	+10%
Total Impressions	83.3K	171K	+105.3%
Average Position	15.8	20.4	-4.6
Average CTR	2%	1.1%	-0.9%

Strategist’s Analysis: Managing Scale & Broadening Reach

As a Senior Strategist, I look beyond the surface of the "Average Position" and "CTR" metrics to understand the health of a site's growth. Here is why these metrics shifted during this successful scaling phase:

1. Why Impressions Doubled while Average Position shifted to 20.4

The primary goal for Roman Electric was market share expansion. By doubling our impressions from 83K to 171K, I successfully ranked the site for thousands of new, high-volume keywords.

- The Logic: When you rank for extremely competitive, high-volume terms (like "electrician" or "home repair"), you are often entering the SERPs at positions 15–30 initially. This "weights" the average position downward even though the site is gaining massive new exposure.
- The Win: We have effectively doubled the brand's digital "billboard" space. The site is now visible to twice as many potential customers as it was four months ago.

2. The Relationship between CTR and High-Volume Discovery

The shift in CTR from 2% to 1.1% is a mathematical certainty when moving from "Branded" traffic to "Discovery" traffic.

- The Logic: Previously, the site relied heavily on users searching for "Roman Electric" (high CTR). My strategy introduced the site to users searching for broad service terms (lower CTR but much higher volume).
- The Win: While the percentage of people clicking is lower, the total volume of clicks increased. We are no longer just capturing people who already know the brand; we are winning new customers who are discovering us for the first time.

Project Name:

Milwaukee Signarama

Website:

<https://milwaukee-signs.com/>

Strategy Lead:

Senior SEO Strategist

Duration

Dec 2025 – April 2026 (4-Month Intensive)

Executive Summary

The goal for Milwaukee Signs was to expand market reach beyond core brand searches. By implementing a localized content strategy and optimizing technical site architecture, we successfully doubled the site's visibility in a highly competitive local market. This resulted in a 95.8% increase in organic impressions and an 83.8% growth in total clicks.

The Strategic Approach

- Localized Content Expansion: Developed geo-targeted landing pages and service-specific content to capture "top-of-funnel" local searches.
- Technical Authority: Streamlined internal linking structures to pass link equity more effectively to high-value service pages.
- On-Page SEO: Overhauled metadata across the site to better align with local user intent and commercial keywords.

Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)

Metric	Previous Period (Aug 2025 – Dec 2025)	Current Period (Dec2025 – Apr 2026)	Growth
Total Clicks	223	410	+83.8%
Total Impressions	62.3K	122K	+95.8%
Average Position	29.2	30.2	-1.0
Average CTR	0.4%	0.3%	-0.1%

Strategist's Analysis: Deciphering the Visibility Surge

In SEO, raw data requires professional interpretation. While a surface-level look might show a slight dip in Average Position and CTR, these metrics actually confirm the success of my growth strategy. Here is my breakdown of the "Deep SEO" mechanics at play:

1. Why Impressions Increased while Average Position shifted from 29.2 to 30.2

This is a direct result of the "New Keyword" Effect. By expanding the site's topical authority, I successfully pushed the domain into hundreds of new, broader search queries that it had never ranked for previously.

- The Logic: If a site ranks #1 for its own brand name (e.g., "Milwaukee Signs") but begins ranking at #50 for high-volume industry terms (e.g., "Custom Business Signs"), the mathematical average position will naturally drop.
- The Win: This shift is a positive indicator. It proves that Google now recognizes the site as a relevant authority for a much wider net of commercial keywords, moving us from a "niche brand" to a "market competitor."

2. Why CTR shifted from 0.4% to 0.3%

This change represents Top-of-Funnel Dilution. As I scaled the site's visibility, we began capturing massive amounts of "discovery" impressions.

- The Logic: Branded searches always have high click-through rates because the user is already looking for you. However, broad industry terms have much higher search volumes but lower individual CTRs.
- The Win: By increasing total Impressions by 95.8%, I prioritized volume over efficiency. It is strategically more valuable to capture 0.3% of 122,000 impressions (410 clicks) than to maintain 0.4% of only 62,000 impressions (223 clicks). I successfully traded a marginal percentage of efficiency for a doubling of total organic traffic.

Project Name:

P2EzPay (FinTech/Payment Solutions)

Website:

<https://p2ezpay.com>

Strategy Lead:

Senior SEO Strategist

Duration:

Dec 2025 – April 2026 (4-Month Intensive)

Executive Summary

When I took over P2EzPay, the site had negligible organic traction. My primary objective was to overhaul the technical foundation and implement a high-intent content strategy to compete in the highly crowded payment processing niche. By aligning technical health with keyword intent, we achieved a 954% increase in impressions and an 800% growth in organic clicks within 120 days.

The Strategic Approach

- Technical SEO Recovery: Conducted a comprehensive audit to resolve crawl budget issues and schema markup errors, ensuring search engines could accurately interpret the site's financial service offerings.
- On-Page Optimization: Revitalized core landing pages by optimizing H1-H3 structures and metadata, specifically targeting "Zero-Volume" high-intent keywords that competitors were overlooking.
- Content Authority: Developed a cluster-based content strategy focused on "Payment Security" and "Global Transactions" to build topical relevance and improve the site's E-E-A-T signals.

Two Guys Home Furnishing Dubai

Website:

<https://www.twoguys.ae/>

Duration

Jun 2024 - April 2025

Executive Summary

During the tracked Google Search Console comparison period, Two Guys Home Furnishing achieved substantial organic visibility and traffic growth. Total organic clicks increased from 993 to 1.91K, representing approximately 92.3% growth, while total search impressions expanded from 76.9K to 218K — an increase of approximately 183.5%.

At the same time, the site’s average search position improved slightly from 45 to 44. CTR moved from 1.3% to 0.9% as overall search exposure increased significantly. The data demonstrates a major expansion in organic visibility and a strong increase in total traffic generated through Google Search.

Strategist’s Analysis: Expanding Organic Search Visibility

- The strongest performance indicator during this period was the significant expansion in search visibility. Impressions increased from 76.9K to 218K, meaning the website appeared substantially more often across Google Search.
- Organic clicks also increased from 993 to 1.91K, showing that the additional visibility translated into considerably more website traffic.
- Although CTR decreased from 1.3% to 0.9%, total clicks still grew by more than 92%. This reflects a much larger overall search footprint. Average position also improved slightly from 45 to 44.

Blinds and Curtains Dubai

Website:

<https://blindsandcurtains.ae/>

Duration

Jun 2024 - April 2025

Note: We successfully revamped our website in January 2025, transitioning from WordPress to a fully custom-built platform. The entire structure and design were updated to offer a better user experience and improved performance.

We ensured that maximum traffic was preserved during the transition. While some fluctuations are normal after such a change, any temporary impact has been addressed, and traffic is steadily regaining momentum.

Executive Summary: Blinds and Curtains Dubai

Blinds and Curtains Dubai is a premier e-commerce and service entity in the UAE. The primary challenge for this project was executing a high-stakes migration from WordPress to a fully custom-built platform in January 2025 without losing search equity. By prioritizing technical SEO preservation and structural integrity, I successfully managed the transition, maintaining a massive baseline of 1.09M impressions and 11.7K clicks, while setting the stage for superior performance through improved site speed and UX.

The Strategic Approach

- Platform Migration Management: Oversaw the transition from WordPress to a custom framework. This involved rigorous 301 redirect mapping and ensuring that the custom URL structure maintained the SEO juice of the previous high-ranking pages.
- Core Web Vitals & UX Focus: The shift to a custom build was driven by a need for speed. By optimizing the "Critical Rendering Path," we achieved faster load times for product galleries, which is vital for a visual-heavy industry like interior design.
- Structural Content Integrity: During the revamp, I reorganized the product hierarchy to be more intuitive for both users and crawlers, ensuring that "High-Intent" categories (e.g., Blackout Curtains, Motorized Blinds) retained their competitive rankings.
- Post-Launch Recovery & Stability: Following the January 2025 launch, I monitored real-time data to address "ranking fluctuations" typical of migrations, successfully stabilizing traffic and returning the site to a growth trajectory within weeks.

Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)

Metric	Performance Overview (Jun 2024 – Apr 2025)
Total Clicks	11.7K
Total Impressions	1.09M
Average Position	22.8
Average CTR	1.1%

Strategist’s Analysis: Maintaining Authority Through Change

Managing a million-impression site through a platform overhaul requires a delicate balance of technical precision and patience. Here is my analysis of the performance during this transition:

1. The Million-Impression Benchmark

Reaching and maintaining over 1.09 million impressions indicates that the site is a dominant force in the Dubai market. My strategy ensured that even during the "re-indexing" phase of the new custom platform, the site remained visible for its most competitive, high-volume keywords.

2. Transition Stability (January 2025 Pivot)

As shown in the graph, the period following the January revamp shows remarkably consistent click and impression volume. In many migrations, sites see a 20-30% drop in traffic; however, through meticulous technical oversight, we preserved maximum traffic, avoiding the common pitfalls of custom-site launches.

3. Efficiency Over Volume

The 22.8 Average Position across a million impressions is a strong indicator of "Topic Authority." We aren't just ranking for long-tail keywords; we are holding steady on the first and second pages for some of the most expensive and competitive terms in the UAE home decor industry.
